ARTISAN MAKERS

At Fyfe Golf, we are committed to sourcing the finest materials from Scotland's most respected mills and makers. Our Harris Tweed is carefully selected from the Isle of Harris, embodying the rich tradition of handwoven Scottish fabric. We complement this with tartans from historic makers in Perthshire and Selkirk, adding authenticity to every piece. For durability and style, we use premium waxed canvas from Halley Stevensons in Dundee, a globally renowned name in textile craftsmanship.

Additionally, our Merino wool products are dyed and finished by Todd & Duncan, cashmere and Merino wool specialists located near Loch Leven, ensuring both luxury and heritage are woven into each product.

Our attention to detail extends to our hats, which are crafted by expert artisans in Ayrshire, where generations of hat-making expertise ensure each piece is of the highest quality. By working with local craftspeople, we not only support traditional industries but also guarantee the finest craftsmanship is woven into every Fyfe Golf item.

All our handcrafted headcovers and accessories are made to order in our dedicated workshop in Fife. Here, skilled artisans meticulously create each piece, ensuring it meets the high standards of both function and design. Every stitch and seam is thoughtfully crafted to reflect our commitment to quality and authenticity. Whether it's a custom headcover or one of our iconic accessories, each item is made to order, ensuring it is as unique as the golfer who carries it.
